GRAMMAR SCHOOL GIVEN BEAR FLAG

NATIVE SONS AND DAUGHTERS DONATE HISTORIC BANNER OF EARLY CALIFORNIA.

H. W. Lampkin Delivers Speech of Presentation and is Responded to By Trustee Littlejohn.

Through the generosity of the Native Sons and Native Daughters, Redwood City grammar school is the owner of a handsome Bear Flag. The ceremony of presenting the flag to the school was held in the school auditorium Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was witnessed by a large number of people, the Native Sons and Native Daughters and the Relief Corps attending in a body.

The flag is made of heavy bunting, 6x10 feet and is an exact copy of the historic banner that was raised by the pioneers in 1846 when California threw off the Mexican yoke.

Under Sheriff Lampkin, on behalf of the parlor, made the presentation speech which was in part as follows:

"Members of the faculty and pupils of the Redwood City grammar school—Some time since, at a meeting of Redwood Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, it was suggested that we purchase and present to this school, a Bear Flag. As such action is in keeping with the objects and purposes of our organization it met with the hearty and unanimous approval of the parlor.

"There are certain features which distinguish the Order of Native Sons, and the same may be said of the Native Daughters, from other fraternal societies. Doubtless you know, only persons born within California are eligible to its membership, and, in addition to the principles embodied in various other fraternal orders, every feature of our organization and work is imbued with the precepts of loyalty; loyalty to the State of California. One of the great aims of our order is to preserve and perpetuate all things identified with the early history of the State, and it is to this end that we are offering you this Bear Flag.

"It would be encroaching too much upon your time for me to attempt to relate, to any extent, the history of the past of California, which, to quote Judge John F. Davis, "Possesses a wealth of romantic interest, a variety of contrast, a novelty of resourcefulness, and an intrinsic importance that enthralls the imagination." There are, however, a few incidents leading up to the adoption of the Bear Flag upon which, in a general way, I would like to touch.

The speaker then gave a historic sketch of the events leading up to the adoption of the Bear Flag.

"About this time the reports that the United States was at war with Mexico began to reach California. On the 7th day of July, 1846, these reports had been confirmed, Commodore Sloat, in command of the U. S. fleet on the Pacific Coast, landed at Monterey, unfurled the Stars and Stripes and in the name of the United States took possession of this great land.

"The actual work upon the original Bear Flag was performed by Granville P. Swift, Peter Storm, Henry L. Ford and Wm. Todd. The original flag remained in the possession of the Association of California Pioneers in San Francisco until it, together with a great many other valuable relics, was destroyed by the fire which followed the earthquake of 1906.

"To me has been accorded, the honor and the pleasure of presenting to you and your school, in the name and on behalf of Redwood Parlor, No. 66, Native Sons of the Golden West, this counterpart of that historic flag.

"It is our hope that as, day by day, it floats above you in fitting conjunction with and subservient only to the Stars and Stripes, it may serve to imbue in you sentiments of patriotism and loyalty to your own State.

"It is our hope that as you pursue your studies here in the years to come, and have passed the realm of schooldays, you may unite with us in our efforts to preserve and perpetuate our relics, our traditions and our landmarks and to keep forever bright the memory of those pioneer fathers who braved the hidden and unknown dangers of early immigration and frontier life in order that they might win for us this great heritage; and of those pioneer mothers who so unselfishly left the surroundings of their girlhood, who, without a murmur, bore the heartache attendant thereto, and, in some lonely mountain cabin or some isolated home in the valleys of this great land, gathered their children around the fireside and taught them to revere their foster mother, the State of California, and to protect her as they would protect the one who gave them life and love."

Chase Littlejohn, a member of the board of trustees, and the oldest native son born in Redwood City, accepted the gift and warmly thanked the Native Sons and Daughters on behalf of the teachers and pupils. He said that the Bear Flag would ever inspire in the children a reverence for their State, its institutions and its noble pioneers. It would always be the flag of the builders of this great commonwealth, representing every section of California. He concluded his remarks with a strong condemnation of the movement to divide the State and hoped that the scheme would ignomeniously fail, as it should.

Immediately following the presentation ceremony Mr. Carrington sang, "I Love You California.".

Other numbers on the program were as follows: Tableau, "Birth of the Nation's Flag"—Betsy Ross, Blanch Ross; Betsy Ross' maid, Vera Jacobsen; George Washington, Paul Mentz; Washington's aides, Kendall Towne and Ralph Talmadg; song, "Star Spangled Banner," school; Lincoln's Gettysburg address, Dorothy Bresse (costumed as Goddess of Liberty;) "Battle Hymn of the Republic," school; dancing of minuet in colonial costume, Dorothy Dearborn, Claire Locker, Marie Gunther, Mildred Lamb, Harold Anderson, Robert Murray, George Kerr and Bavarde Lalande; song, "America," by school and audience.

Don't Blame the Druggist.

The new Federal anti-narcotic law which goes into effect March 1, prohibits the refilling of prescriptions containing more than a minimum amount of opium, morphine heroin or codine, so do not be surprised if the next time you take your favorite cough remedy to be refilled, the druggist turns you down as he has no discretion in the matter. Severe penalties, including fine and imprisonment, are imposed for violation of the law.

H. H. Sears, master of the Boy Scouts, took his boys to the Frank Tannery last Saturday and they were conducted through the big factory by Mr. Steinberger and Mr. Genochio. The visit was a profitable and enjoyable one. Other such inspections will be had later, all of which the boys appreciate very much.

NOTRE DAME CELEBRATES WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Friday afternoon, the pupils of Notre Dame Academy celebrated the birthday anniversary of George Washington.

A very pleasing, literary and musical program was presented and was rendered more effective by the tasteful stage decorations of the national colors. Following is the program:

Flag Song	School
Crowning Washington	Recitation
	Josephine Simmons.
Mount Vernon Bells	Solfeggio Class

The Peace Convention, a dialogue in which Ward Hahir impersonated George Washington and called together some of the world's great men to express their views on the question of Universal Peace, was as follows:

Cardinal Gibbons	Howard Wallace
Archbishop Ireland	Joseph Hahir
Sir Russell Lowell	Frank Shields
Phil. Sheridan	Richard Sheerin
Gen. Sherman	Francis O'Sullivan
Victor Hugo	Manuel Soto
Andrew Carnegie	John Elliot
Lord Beresford	David Sheerin
Napoleon	Francis Miramontis
Seth Low	Albert Genochio
Douglas Jerrold	Will Foley

At the close, "Let Us Have Peace" was sung and the convention decided that war should be banished from the earth, arbitration rule and the inhabitants should strive to see who should contribute most to its happiness.

The Little Hatchet	Francis O'Sullivan and Ward Hahir
I Would Tell of Washington	Recitation
	Boys of the 5th Grade.
Salute to the Flag	School
Star Spangled Banner	School

The pastor, Rev. J. J. Sullivan, who was present with his assistant, Rev. Father Bandini, complimented the children upon having acquitted themselves so creditably and commended the character of George Washington, particularly, as a citizen to be imitated and admired. The announcement that Monday would be a holiday, was received with thunders of applause.

A landmark disappeared this week when the umbrella tree on Judge Fitzpatrick's property on the corner of Broadway and Winslow streets was cut down. The tree was planted 50 years ago by the late Dr. Kirkpatrick, that property then being his home. Its roots were disturbing the stone sidewalk and it had to be removed.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

ADVICE TO KNOCKERS.

If you live in a town you should believe in it. If you don't believe your own town or city is a little better in most respects than any of its neighbors, you should move out. Like other places, it has advantages that others have not, and your modesty should not prevent you from making that fact known whenever the opportunity presents itself. At home or abroad, whether pursuing pleasure or engaged in business, do not neglect to give those you come in contact with to understand that you live in a town populated by interesting, wideawake goahead people and one that is advancing instead of retrograding.

If you can truthfully speak in commendation of the abillity of your professional men, the square dealing methods of your business men, the excellence of your mechanics, the superiority of your churches, schools and public institutions and industry, energy and sobriety of your citizens, let nothing prevent you from exercising that privilege. You should learn to believe, if you do not already, that we have all these and in addition the best located town, the finest country surrounding it, with the most intelligent class of people to be found.

If there are any drawbacks it will not be necessary to mention them. The people and newspapers of competing towns will relieve you of that task by attending to that part of it themselves. Strangers seeking locations are always greatly influenced in favor of any town whose citizens are enthusiastic in their praise of it. No city or town expects to attain prominence over its rivals unless its inhabitants appreciate the excellence and virtues of each other and will collectively spread abroad their faith in the present prosperity and future greatness of their locality. Talk is a cheap commodity, but when rightly utilized, it can be made effective in many directions, and this is one of them.

SIGNS OF GOOD TIMES

Already this season there has been announced the purchase of four fine country estates in the Menlo Park district. The F. A. Somers place by Albert Schwabacher; the Percy Moore place by Charles Brandenstein; the F. S. Mayhew place by Karl Reiss; and the S. E. Slade place by J. I. Mack.

Country homes at Menlo Park are luxuries upon which owners spend money from the time of purchase until disposed of. When hard times come on transfers of this class of property ceases. Resumption of transfers in the acquiring of these luxuries is a sure sign of prosperity returned.

Inquiry for fancy property is greater than for many years and the exposition year will show a greater business than any one year in the whole history of this section of the county.

GRAND COURT FORESTERS PLAN VISIT TO COUNTY

The San Francisco courts of the Foresters of America are making the final arrangements for the reception of the officers and delegates to the Grand Court of California that will meet in that city next May, for the first time in 25 years. The Grand Circle of the Companions of the Foresters of America will meet in the same city at the same time.

The two grand bodies will hold sessions in separate halls in the Civic Center Auditorium, commencing May 4th and continuing during the week. There will be a reception and get acquainted meeting the night before the first session. When not engaged in business the representatives to the two grand bodies, will be entertained by the Foresters and the Companions, as these two bodies will act jointly in this matter. The program provides for an all-day and night visit to the exposition, a grand ball in Scottish Rite Hall, public installation of officers, an auto sight seeing trip over the city and a trip down the peninsula, to show the residential section of San Mateo county.

The two bodies will have an aggregate of more than 700 delegates and officers and all will be done to make their stay a pleasant one.

COLMA INFORMATION

COLMA, Feb. 26—A number of people from this town were among the 200,000 who attended the opening of the Exposition last Saturday. They went oppressed by the disappointing appearance of the weather, and well pleased when the sun came out. They could not but feel that the elements showed great consideration for the promoters of the event. All report that the great work has been well done. What they saw makes them feel that every Californian, and especially every San Franciscan, has a right to feel justly proud.

Tomorrow, (Thursday) a much larger representation will be at the Exposition, endeavoring to show loyalty to our county. What is the use of having a day of our own unless we make an effort to observe it. The ladies of Colma's Auxiliary are doing their part. The people of the whole county should be doing the same.

The Board of Education held a meeting last Friday afternoon. A resolution was passed reminding the teachers to obey the State law regarding home study.

W. J. Savage attended the school men's dinner at San Mateo last Thursday evening. Not a large number were able to be there but the few spent the time pleasantly and profitably. The next meeting will be on the evening of April 23d and the San Mateo highschool and the girls of the school are to serve them a dainty feast. It is to be hoped that not a man will be absent.

The return of the wet weather has had a depressing effect upon all. On the coastside all work is at a standstill. The farmers are far behind with their work and the land is so saturated that they must wait days after the rain ceases before they can begin to till it. All the old fashioned roads are in a bad state. Many of them are almost impassable. How different they will be next year.

The depredations of the reputed California lion have stopped. A band of wild cats is now held responsible for the damage that was done to the stock. Two of the bloodthirsty cats have been killed and the others are not much in evidence.

In spite of the rain and the cold, the earliest potatoes are just coming up. The first potatoes this year will bring a record price.

Great quantities of cauliflower and cabbage are being shipped from here to many points of the frozen east. All the packing houses are busy. The prices are fairly good.

There will be a mission held in the Holy Angels parish, beginning February 8th and ending March 6th. All are cordially invited to attend.

For Sale—Year-old Raspberry Plants. Apply at Lown's Fruit Store or Stafford Bros.' grocery, Redwood City, or Mrs. E. E. Honn, Woodside Road. 2-20-1

FOR SALE—Longworth Strawberry plants and good barley hay. Apply to T. Mangini, R. F. D. No. 2.; Morshead Farm, Portola.

SAN MATEO COUNTY DAY ATTRACTS RECORD CROWD

The sun never shone fairer than it did Thursday at the Exposition for San Mateo County Day. Smooth, Sunny, Scenic San Mateo County took its sunshine and violets in wanton profusion and 58,000 men, women and children enjoyed the shine of the sun and the fragrance of the flowers. After a week of clouds and mud, a day such as Thursday was one on which all could be happy. San Mateo county has good reason to be proud of its exhibit, its commissioners and its women who made the county booth such an attractive place. Flowers are always an attraction and San Mateo county lays emphasis on the fact that it is a place of flowers. Not only does the county booth breath out a perfume at all times, but the display of orchids of the McRorie, McLaren Company in the Horticultural building proclaims the fact that we are the home of the choicest and most beautiful blossoms. The dantsant which was given in our honor was all that it should have been and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Most of the schools of the county were closed as were all of the business houses, and wherever one traveled, whether on the Zone, the Machinery Palace or at the Canadian exhibit, he was sure to see someone from home with whom he could talk and warm up about the wonders and beauties of the day and place.

But you were there so it is of no use to go on talking about it and if you weren't there you can't begin to realize, until you do go, what a big thing we have so close at hand and you must go at the very first opportunity.

Meyer and William Robert Meyer, wife and son of the deceased. They also petitioned the Superior Court for letters testamentary thereon. The instrument was executed at San Francisco on January 18, 1915 and the subscribing witnesses were Fred W. Lux and O. E. Eklund of San Francisco. Bythe terms of the will the wife is bequeathed the Meyer home at Redwood City valued at $10,000. She is also given all funds deposited in the First National Bank of Redwood City and the deposit in the Bank of British North America and the Royal Bank of Canada, Victoria, B. C. All the real property situated in that place is also bequeathed to Mrs. Meyer as well as all money invested in mortgages on property at that place. All the real estate located at Port Hardy, Rupert District, Vancouver Island, is left to William Robert Meyer for his sole benefit and support. The petition does not state the value of the estate except that it is over $10,000. The other heirs at law arg are Mrs. Stella Gregg of Victoria and Mrs. Gertrude Power of Vancouver. Andrew Thorne of San Francisco is the attorney for the petitioner.

New Actions in Superior Court.

The Garden City Bank and Trust Company of San Jose on Wednesday began foreclosure proceedings in the Suprior Court against the Ravenswood Investment Company to recover the sum of $200,000. The property on which the mortgage is to be foreclosed consists of several hundred acres of land at Ravenswood known as the Cooley ranch. In 1910 the Investment Co. incurred a bonded indebtedness of $200,000, a first mortgage being given for $125,000 and a second mortgage for $75,000 on the property to plaintiff. The bank also asks for attorney fees in the sum of $10,000, trustee's fees $10,000, $60 for continuing abstract and the further sum of $970.55 for taxes. E. M. Rea of San Jose is the attorney for plaintiff.

Ellen J. Glynn has brought an action in the Superior Court against Charles Holy to recover the sum of $920 for services rendered defendant at his special request and instance as nurse, housekeeper and manager of store. The services were rendered between March 14, 1913 and February 23, 1915. Plaintiff asks for costs of suit.

Mary F. Aubry has brought an action in the Superior Court against Bertha A. Burke, as administratrix of the estate of Francis A. McManus, deceased to compel the administratrix to execute a deed to three lots in San Bruno Park in favor of plaintiff. The property stands in the name of the deceased. The complaint alleges that plaintiff purchased the lots from Hensley-Green Company under contract and when all the payments were made the deeds to the lots were executed in favor of Mr. McManus. Plaintiff alleges that he held them only in trust for her. The deceased was a nephew of the plaintiff. McManus was a resident of Contra Costa county, and his estate is now being probated in that county.

William F. Turnbull of San Mateo, through his attorneys, Ross and Ross, has brought an action in the Superior Court against J. H. Herbst to have a certain promissory note reformed and corrected. The plaintiff is a separate suit has brought an action to recover the amount of the note, to-wit, $304.50. The instrument was executed on February 27, 1911, at San Mateo. The word "dollars" is omitted from the note, and it is this portion of the instrument that needs correction. The note is drawn as follows:

San Mateo, February 27th, 1911.

One day after date, value received, I promise to pay William F. Turnbull, or order, the sum of three hundred and four and 50-100 (304.50) in gold coin of the United States of America, together with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum until paid, interest payable semi-annually. J. H. Herbst.

BATTLE AGAINST SQIRREL PEST RAPIDLY PROGRESSING

Inspector L. B. Jones, U. S. Public Health Service, reports that notwithstanding the inclement weather prevailing during the past two months, considerable progress has been made in the work of squirrel extermination. In some localities where there is low ground the flood waters of the recent storms have caught the squirrels and destroyed thousands.

The first object of the service in this county is to create a squirrel free zone three to four miles wide along the Santa Clara-Santa Cruz boundary. This accomplished and with the ocean on the west and the bay cities on the north, the county will be protected from re-infestation. Although Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties declared war on the squirrel two or three years ago and with the assistance of the Public Health Service have continued the work successfully, the territory in these counties immediately adjacent to San Mateo county has been to some extent neglected until work should begin in this county. The government forces in the three counties are now co-operating to clean up the land along the boundaries prior to working the remainder of San Mateo county.

In this zone on the San Mateo side some twenty-five thousand acres have been inspected since December 15th, and notices served on persons having domain over the land. Reinspections have been made from two to five times and those in control have been assisted and advised with. Practically all of this area is now being treated by the various methods and eradication has been almost completed on many tracts. Now that the weather has moderated it is expected the work will progress rapidly and a much larger area eradicated during the next couple of months. The inspectors report excellent cooperation on the part of ranchers and others interested.

The statuary was the admiration of all visitors to the great university. There was a vigorous protest entered against its removal, but the university trustees are all powerful and their mandate had to be obeyed. Mr. Morey was the one selected to perform the delicate task.

St. Patrick's Day is coming, in fact it is almost here, but Menlo Park is ready. The secrecy of the war plans in Europe have nothing on the secrecy maintained until now of the organization of a new dramatic club in the town. Its first public appearance will be on the Eve of St. Patrick's Day and for the evening's entertainment the club has prepared a thoroughly Irish and very impressive drama. We shall tell you more about this next week and the week after. In the meantime we believe we have settled your mind as to how you will spend St. Patrick's Eve.

Toy Wing Kong, a well known Chinese of this place and Mayfield, was struck by the Santa Cruz flyer Tuesday afternoon near the San Francisquito creek bridge and instantly killed. He was accompanied by Jan Wong, son of a fruit buyer of Mountain View. Kong Kong did not hear the approaching train. It was drizzling at the time and Kong had his umbrella up and this somewhat deadened the sound of the train. He was told to look out by his companion but Kong did not heed the warning and was hurled thirty feet in the air. Deputy Coroner Layng took the remains to the Redwood City Undertaking Parlors. Toy, the dead Chinese, had lived in or about Mayfield and Menlo Park for twenty-five years and was 54 years of age. According to Town Marshal P. S. Crowley of Mayfield, who knew Toy, the unfortunate Chinese used to be employed about twenty-five years ago on the A. P. Hotaling ranch out on the Page Mill road and in those days milked twenty-five cows twice a day and made butter for the ranch to send to city markets. In later years Toy became a domestic cook, working in the neighborhood of and on the Stanford campus, where he was well known by sight as "the fat Chinese cook." He weighed 200 pounds and was not quite of medium height.

About two years ago Toy stopped cooking and became identified with the Chinese colony in Mayfield and daily made tripe to the Chinese quarters in Menlo Park.

HUBBARD WRITES OF SAN MATEO COUNTY

FAMOUS WRITER TELLS OF BEAUTIES OF PENINSULA, VIEWED FROM AN AUTO.

An Attractive Booklet, Cleverly Written and Illustrated, Will Make Known Our Advantages.

In his own breezy, entertaining way, Elbert Hubbard tells the story of San Mateo county, and the story will be read. The writer makes no attempt to give a connected narrative, but rather tells of the attractions and advantages of the county in catchy paragraphs which carry conviction of their truth, without any touch of exaggeration.

There are twenty-four pages of Hubbard's interesting sketch of the county, neatly printed and bound, in which Redwood City is well represented, both in picture and text. Forty thousand of the booklets have been placed in the hands of the County Exposition Commissioners for distribution, and they will prove a good investment for the county.

In his rapid ride down the Peninsula Hubbard tarries briefly in Redwood City of which he writes as follows:

"The next place is Redwood City. In a lavish mood Nature sent a great stretching arm of the bay inland three miles, and on this arm is built the flourishing, growing and evolving Redwood City. This arm of the bay is called Redwood Creek. The fact is, however, it is no "creek." It has a depth of water at low tide of about twenty feet and at high tide the depth is fully thirty feet. At the head of this "creek" was once a noble forest of redwoods. These trees were cut, sawed up into lumber, and what was not used to build Redwood City was sent by deep water to market.

"Redwood City enjoys terminal freight rates, and very low commutation and freight rates to San Francisco. Ships ply between Redwood City and Sacramento and San Joaquin river points. Redwood has a dozen manufacturing establishments. It is the county seat of San Mateo county. To the homeseeker Redwood City offers many inducements. The summer nights are always cool, and in winter very seldom indeed does the mercury hit the freezing point. Then the neighbors are agreeable."

Of other parts of the county Hubbard writes as generously, dividing his favors equally among all. Following are some of his scintillating paragraphs gleaned at random:

In San Mateo county I found in abundance everything that human being craves and requires.

In San Mateo county there is liberty—religious, social, political. Food is plentiful, and the high cost of living has no terrors.

In San Mateo county repair equals waste—if anywhere in the wide world. Happiness abounds, because the conditions are right.

We appreciate things by contrast. San Mateo county is practically a suburb of San Francisco.

In less than an hour's ride from the St. Francis Hotel we saw wild deer. Jack-rabbits and cottontails cross the road, indifferent to "safety first." Bevies of California quail, with gorgeous topknots, scorned our approach.

San Mateo county is a place where modern Franciscan Friars frolic.

We left San Francisco at four o'clock in the afternoon in a fog that had blown in from the ocean, dense and permeating. In twenty minutes' time we had run out of the fog, and a glorious sunshine bathed the landscape. Not a cloud was in the sky.

Practically, San Mateo county is one great park, laid out by Nature in a joyous mood.

Two things are grown here in a profusion not reached anywhere else in America—these things are Brussels sprouts and artichokes. New York City looks to San Mateo county for its artichokes.

When I tramped through the Lake District north of England, I thought I had found the place where the Garden of Eden existed, if anywhere. Since then I have discovered that the ideal is in San Mateo county.

San Mateo county has the best roads of any county in California, and this means the best roads in the United States.

In truth, anyone who goes to the San Francisco- Panama Exposition who does not see San Mateo county, really has not seen California at all.

But beyond the tangible, there is an intangible something which I discovered everywhere present in San Mato county, that is, the human quality, the instinct of curtesy, of kindness, of good will, of mutual helpfulness. How anyone could live in San Mateo county and be lonely and homesick I do not know.

Get one of Hubbard's books and send it where it will do some good.

Mr. Louis Niello and his sister Miss Modesta were down Sunday on a visit to their parents at their pretty home in the Eastern addition.
